

Rural

Adjective

In relating to, or characteristic of the countryside rather than the town

Remote

The members of RawArt have all interpreted the idea of rural in their own way, some literally by drawing birds and recreating little rural scenes, some more abstractly.

They have all represented the idea of an environment, real or imagined maybe from a long time ago when they were more carefree and wandered as children do disappearing off to other worlds in their play.

Some see rural in urban areas. For those of us that find access to truly remote places difficult, we seek and appreciate little pockets of 'rural' in our towns in parks and gardens.

Loughborough is lucky to have Queens Park, which is one such area and happens to be opposite Charnwood Arts ArtsHouse where RawArt is based
